BARRE GRANITE EXHIBIT.

The granite manufacturers have inaugurated a move which, if carried out faithfully, will be of incalculable benefit to the granite industry in this vicinity,—that is, the project to form a suitable exhibit of Barre granite at the St. Louis exposition next year. No wide-awake merchant thinks of conducting business without advertising his wares. No city or town with an industry such as we have should fail to take advantage of this opportunity to exploit the superiority of Barre granite. The product which we have is a superior one, we know that. But there are a great many people in the country and outside, as well, who do not know it. To reach that uninforming proportion this scheme of advertising is the best that could be devised. The St. Louis fair, like the Chicago fair in 1893, will be of world wide proportions and the people will be attracted to it from all sections and many countries. Classes and sections which could not otherwise be told of this product which Barre is sending forth, will get their information at this fair. Granite manufacturers say that they were materially benefitted by the advertising which Barre granite received at Chicago. And we know that indirectly the city of Barre and the surrounding towns which depend largely upon this industry were consequently given an impetus that is represented by increased business and increased population.

If, then, the exhibit of Barre granite at the Chicago World's fair 10 years ago brought results, how much more necessary is it that at least as much of an exhibit be made at St. Louis? (And when we speak for this exhibit, we are not arguing for the St. Louis fair. We are arguing for the granite industry.) In the ten years that have elapsed since the Chicago fair vast strides have been made in the business. It has grown and expanded enormously. To adequately show that improvement, both in quantity and quality, there is no more comprehensive scheme than the proposed. The industry here has passed that of Quincy and that of Westley because of the progressiveness of its managers as well as because of the superiority of stock. It should be the aim of all of us, not merely of Barre but of all other places affected, to maintain this prestige. Do not fall into a rut of allowing things to take their own course, and do not think that the superiority of Barre granite will of itself advertise the product.

This plan which has been proposed has been well laid out. It is proposed to exhibit the granite in four monuments, of different designs and proportions. The expense of constructing, transporting, setting up and exhibiting these is placed at $8,000. This amount must be met by subscriptions. Naturally the first ones to assist will be the granite manufacturers themselves. They of course will respond to the appeal liberally. But the manufacturers are not the only ones to be benefited as has been pointed out. There are few people in Barre who are not the gainers by any increase in the granite industry, and there are many people in the surrounding towns, to whom the same thing applies. Then it is not alone to the manufacturers that we may by right look for the backing of this plan but to all. So let every one take a personal interest in this matter and see it pushed to a successful conclusion. If all lend a hand the raising of $8,000 will be a comparatively easy proposition.

Once more "Prophet" Dowie rails, and this time it is the Christian Science cult which comes within range of his rapid fire but harmless artillery. He declares that Christian Science "is all bosh" and that Mrs. Eddy's book is "inconsistent with the first elements of good sense." If the "Prophet" was placed in an uninhabited world he might be satisfied.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Chief Judge and Mrs. J. W. Rowell of Randolph have taken rooms at the Pavilion, Montpelier, for the winter. Judge Rowell is steadily improving in health.

While Mayo Wyman and Harry Norton, his brother-in-law of Mashfield were hunting deer Friday, Wyman accidentally shot Norton through the leg above the knee.

James Pillon was admitted to the Soldiers' Home, Bennington, from Rutland Monday afternoon. He served during the Rebellion in a New York regiment of infantry.

George W. Burgin of East Fairfield died at his home Tuesday night. Mr. Burgin was a well known business man of that place, being a member of the firm of Wells & Burgin. He is survived by his wife and one child.

Five deer are credited as being killed in Woodbury this season, as follows: Allie Cameron, 300 pounds; H. E. Richard, 202 pounds; Bud Bruce, 200 pounds; Jerry Douglass, and a Danbury man, unknown. Mr. Burt of Stowe has also succeeded in killing a deer.

Rev. Carl A. Lindevall, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church of Lynn, Mass., has resigned and is considering two calls, one from Philadelphia and the other from Brattleboro. He visited Philadelphia recently and will come to Vermont to look over the field. He will remain with his Lynn parish until early in the coming year.

Daniel Butler, who was recently dishonorably discharged from the army at Fort Ethan Allen, is under arrest on suspicion of burglarizing the room of Miss Maggie O'Mara in a house at the corner of Maple and Battery streets, Burlington. The house had been closed for some time. Several valuable articles were taken from the room.

William Harris of Pownall had an unusual experience Saturday evening when returning from North Adams, Mass., where he had disposed of a load of wood. At a late hour he started on his return and when some distance from that city the team turned into a field to take a drink from a spring. In coming out the wagon was overturned, Harris being under it. He was unconscious for a few moments and when he regained consciousness crawled out from under the box and found out that his best horse had been choked to death by the rein becoming tightened around its neck.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

A Time of Trial.
Maggie's taking music lessons;
Goodness gracious me!
Home was happy, but it isn't
What it used to be.
Everybody has a headache;
It's a fearful thing
Even Fido howls in sorrow
When she's practicing.

O'er the scale she gayly gallops,
Sharps and flats and all;
Gives an agonizing surge;
Ends with a squeal,
And we sit and sadly wonder,
Mid our fierce unrest,
How she got that steam plane
Wedged into her chest.
—Washington Star.

Squelching Him.
"What? Two dollars for a ticket?"
"Yes; it's worth it."
"Well, s'posin' it is. We had a show up to Hot's Corners that the ministers said it was a shame to go to see, an' I seen it for 35 cents."—Puck.

Plain Reasons.
Harry—Blanche says she has insuperable reasons for remaining single.
Horace—Yes; I know what they are.
Harry—Then she has told you?
Horace—No, but I have seen her.—Boston Transcript.

Musical Habit.
That popular tune
It is heartless to say it,
But the more you dislike it
The more they will play it.
—Washington Star.

Possible.
"I wonder why I am not more successful."
"Perhaps it's because you spend so much time wondering."—Chicago Post.

A Hunting Expedition.
Although he got no game at all,
He felt quite lucky in the end.
By no stray bullet did he fall,
Nor did he shoot some trusting friend.

LAMSDORFF IN PARIS.

Russian Foreign Minister Pays Official Visit to France.

TO STRENGTHEN ALLIANCE.

Eastern and Far Eastern Questions Will Be Discussed, but Franco-Russian Amity Is Main Object of Pilgrimage.

Paris, Oct. 29.—Count Lamsdorff, the Russian foreign minister, arrived here at 9 o'clock accompanied by a numerous suite. In spite of the early hour M. Delcasse, the French minister for foreign affairs, was at the railroad station to extend a personal greeting to the Russian minister. The official character of the visit was shown by the presence at the station of M. Mollard, chief of the protocol. Prince Ourousoff, the Russian ambassador, Prince Orloff and other members of the Russian embassy were also present. After greetings had been exchanged, Count Lamsdorff was escorted to the Continental hotel.

During the day many calls of courtesy were exchanged, the important conferences between M. Delcasse and Count Lamsdorff being deferred until later. The programme of the visit has been changed so as to include a grand dinner at the Elysee palace in honor of Count Lamsdorff. M. Delcasse will subsequently give a dinner to the count.

A Visit of Vast Importance.
The visit of Count Lamsdorff absorbs the attention of the public and the press, who attribute to it even more important political significance than to the visits of King Edward and King Victor Emmanuel to Paris. The newspapers generally agree that the foreign ministers will discuss the eastern and far eastern questions, but it is said in authoritative quarters that the situation in the far east is not likely to occupy much attention, since Admiral Alexieff, the Russian viceroy of the far east, has been given practically supreme authority over the Russia-Japanese situation.

The Macedonian situation certainly will be gone over and some important details of the Russian-Austrian note to Turkey will be considered. M. Delcasse is desirous of having France represented on the commission of control which is to carry out the reforms in Macedonia, but the note presented to the porte does not contemplate representatives of any powers except Russia and Austria.

Among the leading officials a strong feeling prevails that the main result of the visit of the Russian minister will be a strengthening of the bonds of the Franco-Russian alliance. This is considered to be most desirable, because small groups here and in Russia are opposed to the alliance. Governmental influences here and in Russia are strongly favorable to the continuance and to the extension of the alliance, and it is expected that public and private expressions during the present visit will emphasize the permanency of the alliance.

Major Lee Re-elected.
London, Oct. 29.—Major Arthur Hamilton Lee and the Marquis of Hamilton, both Conservatives, have been re-elected to parliament without opposition for the south, or Fareham, division of Hampshire and for Londonderry city respectively in consequence of the former being appointed a civil lord of the admiralty and the latter treasurer of the household.

Seven Trainmen Killed.
Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 29.—Word has reached this city that the second section of an east bound overland passenger train ran into a work train at Palisade station, on the Central Pacific, in Nevada, and that seven section men were killed and several passengers injured. The engineer and fireman of the passenger train also were injured.

Czar to Meet Kaiser at Darmstadt.
Berlin, Oct. 29.—According to the present arrangements Emperor William and the czar will meet first at Darmstadt, the former traveling thither to meet his brother monarch. The czar afterward will return the visit at Wiesbaden.

German War Ships at St. Thomas.
St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, Oct. 29.—The German war ships Vineta, Panther, Gazelle and Falke have arrived here. They are receiving officers, men and stores from Germany and will remain a fortnight at St. Thomas.

Fourth Class Postmasters.
Washington, Oct. 29.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: Pennsylvania—Chambersville, P. R. Fulmer; Clayhill, D. F. Smith; Conewago, Martha A. Alexander.

A Family Talk.

"Papa, I don't like to hurt your feelings, but it always makes me angry when folks say I resemble you so much."

"Don't worry, daughter. I get tolerably mad about it too."—Chicago Tribune.

The Thanksgiving Bird Crop.
Often at this time of year, When Thanksgiving's drawing near, We've been told there's shortage in the turkey crop.

That the birds we highly prize Are so scarce that cost will rise To a point where many must that viand drop.

Many times in years gone by We have heard this same old cry And, believing it, have been by sorrow stirred, But when came the time to feast, All from highest to the least, Gazed in rapture at the stuffed and roasted bird.

Now we hear the tale once more, As so often told before, And 'tis spreading far and wide throughout the land, On the farms where turkeys grow Those who raise them say they know There will not be half enough to meet demand.

We are told in accents sad That the season has been bad, Cold and rainy weather getting in hard knockers, That by thousands turkey tots Fell as victims of the swats Which so often decimate the feathered flocks.

For these reasons, we are told, But few turkeys will be sold At the season when we'll all desire to buy, And 'tis furthermore declared, So few turkeys being spared, That the price for them will run extremely high.

But we've often heard such tales, And in spite of all the wails In due time the birds so favored would be found;

So we think that now, as then, We'll have cause to smile again When the time for eating turkey comes around. —Theodore H. Bolce in Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

A MONEY - SAVER!

For Saturday Special, Ladies' Corsets, 25c.

We will shut off profit-making on Corsets for Saturday and figure on cleaning out some of the odd numbers—not on making money. We have been very busy in our Corset department the past week, as we have been introducing several new fall and winter styles in the celebrated American Beauty Corsets, the $1.00 kinds, for this week only, at 90c. After Saturday the price will be $1.00 per pair, (every pair warranted).

Saturday Special—We add 100 pairs of light-weight Corsets, made by the American Beauty Co., and offer them Saturday at the ridiculously low price of 25c per pair. If you would like to begin making money where we leave off, you will invest a little in these Corsets—if not for the present wear, for the future. Remember, all our $1.00 kind, till Saturday evening, 90c. One hundred light-weight Corsets in white and drab, Saturday, 25c per pair. SAMPLES IN WINDOW.
